A Fire Eater's Views of the Late Elections.

The Richmond Times, a regular Fire Eater, places the following interpretation on the late elections: The Radical triumphs which are elsewhere reported will surprise none but that class of wonderfully sanguine Southern men who, during the darkest days of the late civil war, were always predicting foreign intervention and miraculous dispensations for our salvation. It may now very safely be predicted that the next Congress will be more intensely radical than the present. The elections on Tuesday leave no doubt that in the Titanic contest between the Executive and the Legislative departments of the government that Congress will be the victor in all of the Northern States. And we think that full election returns will demonstrate that when the enemies of the President have been most Radical, there their victories have been the most complete.

In the present temper of the Radical party, we cannot entertain a doubt that Congress will clamorously demand the impeachment of the President, mainly for the purpose of replacing him temporarily with a Senator of extreme Radical views. The articles of impeachment, as foreshadowed by Butler, are too absurd and trivial to deserve a moment's consideration, but they will answer very well the temporary purpose of the unprincipled Congressional conspirators. The result of the late elections demonstrate that the President is powerless to inforce his policy. For the rest of his term the veto power will be wielded in vain against the overwhelming Radical majority in Congress, and that conservative feature of our organic law is now as valueless as a protection for an outraged minority, as a "broken break" is to stop the down-hill progress of a coach. Congress is now omnipotent, and can, by the ingenious device of Constitutional amendments, bid defiance even to the Judicial Department of the Government.

There is much profitless speculation with reference to the popular condemnation of the President's policy upon his future course. As he has been, through life, invariably the reflex of the will of the people, and believes in their infallibility, many fear that he will succumb to the avalanche of Radicalism which is sweeping with such resistless power over the Northern States, and advise the Southern States to accept the Congressional amendments as the most favorable which the generous victors are willing to grant to the vanquished. Others, however, who are familiar with his indomitable will, believe that he will remain as firm as a granite cliff, and resist the storm of Radical violence to the last, braving impeachment rather than surrender to the senseless clamor of the Northern mob. We are not equal to the solution of this problem, although the antecedents of the President as a "peoples' man" lead us to apprehend some modification of his often avowed plan of reconstruction. The outside pressure upon him since the late elections will be very great, and especially from Conservatives of the type of Weed and Raymond, and probably such war Democrats as Dix, of New York.

The fate of the South, so far as speedy representation in Congress is concerned, has been sealed by the result of the late elections. The fickle, shallow and unthinking people, who accumulated a debt of three thousand millions of dollars and sacrificed half a million of lives to restore the Union, are now, it seems, overwhelmingly in favor of continuing indefinitely the very state of things to prevent which they fought for four years.

Congress being omnipitent, our condition is that of prisoners of war upon parole. The doctrine that our rights have been forfeited meets the approval of the North, and the triumph of the Radicals stamps the Northern people as the least magnanimous and most unforgiving people of modern times. They are still at war with a disarmed people, who are honestly striving to obey laws in the making of which they have no voice.

Without representation in Congress to defend our interests, and another resort to arms being out of the question, we have nothing left but to endure the malignity, insults and outrages of a gigantic and merciless despotism with dignity and manliness.—We have now little left besides the memory and traditions of our splendid courage and that honor which passed scathless through the furnace of civil strife. By silent, dignified endurance of our wrongs we may retain in the midst of our misfortunes the respect of mankind; but by slavish, servile concessions we shall lose all which renders life endurable.

A WOMAN CANDIDATE.—Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton announces herself as a candidate for Congress in the Eighth District of New York. She publishes her card in the Anti Slavery Standard, declaring herself to be in favor of "free speech, free press, free trade, and free men." She desires a seat in the Fortieth Congress in order that she may have a "voice and vote for universal suffrage." We believe she has not yet received a nomination from any of the regular conventions.

The Governor Elect.

There never has been a man elected Governor of Pennsylvania who as fairly earned the position and the honor at the hands of the people as has John W. Geary. We do not pretend to write that other men who have filled the Gubernatorial chair were not worthy of its honors, nor do we desire to be understood as writing that all who have reached that proud position reflected credit on the office. Some there were who disgraced the high office, and some are still living, hoary with age, who within the past four years could not do sufficient to bring disgrace as well as destruction to the country. Such as these, however, are merely the base politicians who have lived for plunder, and who, being unable ever more to plunge their arm up to the shoulder into the public treasury, were ready to pull the Government to pieces themselves or assist in the treason of others engaged in the same work.—But Gen. Geary, unlike all these, was willing first to peril his life in defense of his native State, before he became a candidate for the Governorship thereof. The hero of two wars, he fought for the honor of our flag in a foreign land, and participated next in the struggle to preserve the national life from the attacks of its intestine foes. Such a man is indeed worthy of his native State's highest honors, as he will fairly requite the confidence of the people just so enthusiastically confided in him. He has never been what may be called a politician, yet he possesses, in an eminent degree more of the essential qualifications of a statesman than Mr. Clymer. Without intending to be harsh with a fallen foe, it is nevertheless true that of all the public men in Pennsylvania, Hiester Clymer is the most shallow and superficial. Nature never intended him for a statesman. He might have made a good confectioner or dancing master, but to lead in the government of a State, he is as absolutely incompetent as is W. H. Wallace incompetent or unwilling to tell the truth in a fair issue between his faction and any of its opponents. On the contrary, John W. Geary is entirely made of different stuff, has been differently educated, and is a vastly different man. He is a man of truth and veracity, and his administration will prove him to be such. He does not understand double dealing and despises those who resort to it. Compelled to battle with the world from his early youth, he knows how to deal with its false pretenses and dispose of those who resort to [illegible] means for success. [illegible] when Buchanan sent him to Kansas, it was this very determination to be practical which made him enemies among the slaveholders then concoeting a monstrous wrong. John W. Geary, in Kansas, implanted that feeling in the national heart which afterwards enabled the people of the United States to resist the slaveholders' rebellion.—He proved at that time that all Democrats were not dough faces like James Buchanan, as he established on the battle field that one Southern man could not whip two Northern men.—This is shown by the records of Geary's career in aiding to crush the rebellion, wherein it is clearly set forth that in the fights out of which he came victorious, he invariably led inferior forces, as to numbers, when compared to those against which he fought.

It is well for Pennsylvania that John W. Geary was elected Governor on the 9th inst. The election of Hiester Clymer would have entailed dire calamity on the State. But we are saved from all that. We will have a man at the head of the affairs of State not only able to guard and administer them with integrity and ability, but competent also to aid in maintaining the national honor, and of dealing with domestic as well as foreign foes.—Har. Tel.

Instructing The President.

The Democratic organs begin to realize that the responsibility of the President's conduct will rest on them. Consequently, they have set about instructing Mr. Johnson. Alarmed at the threatened coup d' etat, they have come to be anxious, lest he should undertake something which would be not only fatal to himself, but would prove to the Democratic party a record as damaging as the one it scored up during the war. Hence we find the World expostulating with the President as follows:

"Congress is liable, at any session, to do unconstitutional acts; but the only legal consequence is that those particular acts are void. They do not affect or impair the authority of Congress as a legislative body. All its other acts are just as valid as if it had not, in those particular instances, transcended its constitutional limitations. When an unconstitutional law is passed, the President may defend the Constitution by interposing his veto, but beyond his veto, he can place no obstruction across the path of that body. If an unconstitutional law is passed over the veto, citizens who suffer by it can test its validity in the courts, and the Supreme Court has authority to declare it null and set it aside.

"This independence of the two Houses, this superiority to all revision by other branches of the Government in all matters pertaining to their organization, is subject to great abuses. But for such abuses the only remedy rests in the hands of the people. If the people are deluded or misled, nothing can be done but attempt their enlightenment, and await a turn in the popular tide. Argument and agitation are the only resource in a case which neither executive or judicial action can reach. However great and provoking may be the abuse, it belongs to a class which admits of no remedy except through the ballot box, for we trust that nobody is so wicked or so insane as to court revolutionary remedies for evils not absolutely intolerable.

"President Johnson has again and again recognized the competency of the Rump Congress, by every form of official intercourse, and by approving the greater portion of the laws it has passed. Those who were taken in by the Philadelphia canard have only to blame themselves for their want of wariness in supposing that the President was about to stultify himself by condemning his own official acts, and adding to the present dangerous ex[illegible] redress to the just grievances of the excluded States."

The New York News has also been greatly enlightened, and now it says:

"The President has a right to endeavor to impress his views on Congress, and make its action conform to his ideas of what is prudent and right, if he can possibly do so. If this fails, he may veto their election, but there his authority ends. The respective powers and duties of the executive, the legislative, and the judicial branches of the Government are strictly defined by the Constitution, and no one has any right to encroach upon the province of the other. The President can veto an act of Congress if he regards it unwise or improper, and the courts may set it aside if they deem it unconstitutional; beyond these restrictions Congress is supreme. The President, therefore, having exhausted his power in attempting to restrain Radical legislation, has no further duties or responsibilities in the matter.—The people have decided against him, and from that decision there is no appeal."

New York Politics.

A New York letter says, the political pot is beginning to boil fast here in the city, while throughout the State both parties are making such exertions as were scarcely ever made before to obtain a verdict in their favor. There is to be, in some of the city districts, the fiercest sort of a fight on Congressmen. Dodge has decided to try conclusions once more with Brooks in the Eighth District. The former has the united Radical support; but if Tammany Hall adopt Brooks, as Mozart has already done, it will be a tough match. Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton says she is running as a candidate against both of these gentlemen in good faith. Her friends are getting up a mass meeting for her at the Cooper Institute next week. Tammany will, doubtless, nominate a candidate in opposition to Fernando Wood in the Ninth District, which will probably insure his defeat. In the Fourth District, Morrissey's friends say his nomination is a sure thing, but they are, probably, too sanguine. In the other districts things for the moment are so mixed up that it is impossible to say, as yet, who is who or what is what. An immense amount of money is changing hands all around, and the "strikers," for once, are reaping a bounteous harvest.

GEN. SICKLES has issued an order turning over cases in which civilians are concerned, to the courts in South Carolina, and providing for the discontinuance of the military courts, excepting at Hilton Head and the Sea Islands. In case, however, of failure of the civil tribunals to protect persons and property, the military shall interfere.

Keep up a Strong Party Organization.

The Union men of the State of Pennsylvania, we are convinced, have learned a salutary lesson in the experience of the political campaign which has just so brilliantly closed. That lesson teaches us that we must always be prepared for our political foes. We must make politics a part of our business; that is, we must esteem it a sacred duty at all times to contribute to the strength and efficiency of an organization on whose success the very existence of the Government depends. To show the danger in which the men who saved the Government stood before the election, it is only necessary to remind all such that, had we failed at the ballot box, it was Andrew Johnson's intention to force us in a position of antagonism such as would have enabled him to treat us as rebels. To do this is still the darling object of his ambition. To place the radicals of the States which prevented a destruction of the Government in an attitude of rebellion, is what Johnson and Seward have both been plotting to accomplish. But they defeated themselves. In their haste to do their own dirty work, these designing demagogues entered the field too soon. Had they remained in Washington with sealed lips, both the President and the Premier might have other results than disastrous defeats to contemplate at this hour; but their success would have been the ruination of the country.—As it was, however, the Republicans of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Iowa, triumphed, and the Republic is safe, only so long as the Republican party is in a condition to make it safe. If there were no Republican party there would be no Republic. This is as certain as it is true that Andrew Johnson is now identified with an organization whose object is, either to make him dictator, or so revive the old influences of the Democratic party, as to place in power the very men who fought to destroy the Government.—This can only be prevented by the Republican party. As long as that party mantains its present organization, just so long will it be able to control and preserve the Government for good. What is wanted, then, is that our young and active men be encouraged by their elders in maintaining their organization. We want kept up and strengthened those glorious leagues, with the aid of which we carried more than one doubtful district on the 9th of October. Such organizations were had in every city, borough, and township in the State, before the election, and there is no good reason why they should not be mantained. We have political organization. It is just as necessary that such an organization should be kept up to protect ourselves from domestic foes, as it is good policy to support an army and navy for defense against foreign foes. What the army and navy are in intimidating foreign foes, the Republican party serves in holding in check domestic broils, political conspiracies and armed treason. Hence, we urge that it is our duty henceforth to strengthen these organizations, that we may forever be able, at the proper time, to rescue the Executive branch of the Government from its present corrupt control, and thus keep it forever in pure hands.—Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. Constant attention to our political organization, the education of our children in the knowledge of Republicanism, and the persuasion of our neighbors, who have gone astray, from the wrong, are the means by which we must increase our elements of strength. And the way to do this is to keep up our political organization, to look after our leagues, to support our newspaper organs, to make our ablest and best men our leaders, and never to forget that the safety of the Government is our dearest object on earth. The young men of decency, sobriety, and intelligence, are all inclined to be Republicans. It is their interest to be so, if, when they become old men, they desire to have a home and a country. To hold these young men, then, we must keep up our organization. The elders of Republicanism must take these young men by the hand; must not constantly look down upon them, but must accustom themselves to looking up to such as these as possessing the vigor always necessary for the success of every good cause. And if we yield this ordinary attention to our organization at all times, it will never require an extraordinary exertion for the Republican party to whip any foe it meets in its path.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Liberia.

A Black Man's Opinion of the Black Man's Capacity for Self-Government.

H. W. Johnson, Jr., a colored man of Onondaigua, N. Y., who was educated as a lawyer, and after his admission to the bar emigrated to Liberia, is writing home a series of letters for publication, from the second of which we make the following extract:

"The Government of Liberia is founded very much on the plan of the Government of the United States of America. Its Constitution is very much like the United States, and other American Constitutions. Its laws are similar to the English common law and the general system of laws in the United States, so far as they are suitable to the condition of the people, and adapted to their circumstances. There are two very important exceptions: First, the people vote directly for President and Vice President.—Secondly, the territory is divided into counties instead of States. The jurisdiction of the Government extends between six and seven hundred miles along the coast, and to undefined limits in the interior. The population consists of about 30,000 civilized people and 300,000 natives, who acknowledge the jurisdiction of the Government, and many of whom daily seek to have their wrongs redressed in its courts of justice. Many of these are friends in peace, and aliens in war.

"The government is divided into three departments: executive, legislative and judicial. The executive department consists of a President, Vice President and Cabinet. The legislative, of a Senate and House of Representatives. It is called 'The Legislature.' The judicial department consists of a Supreme Court, which is composed of a Chief Justice and two Judges of the Court of Quarterly Sessions and Common Pleas, who sit with the Chief Justice alternately. This Court is held once a year. It meets in January. It has original jurisdiction in only a few cases, and appellate jurisdiction in all cases brought up on appeal from the next highest court below. A court of monthly sessions, composed of one Chairman and two Justices of the Peace of the county, who sit alternately. This court sits every month, and is very much like the county courts in your State. There are, also, justices and police courts, similar to those in New York. The judges hold office during good behavior. They are not elected, but appointed by the Executive. I forgot to say that the President, Vice President and members of the [illegible]

"As the great problem—whether the black man has capacity for self-government—is now being solved on the soil of Africa, I suppose you and your readers are anxious to know how and with what ability these different departments of government are filled by colored men. I will proceed to state the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, founded upon facts witnessed and seen with my own eyes. This I will do with candor, and without fear or favor. In the first place, they act exactly like white men, and fill their various offices with as much ability as white men do, when placed in similar circumstances—when founding a new government in the midst of an unbroken wilderness, surrounded with wild and hostile tribes, and with limited means at their disposal to administer the affairs of government.

Jefferson Davis—His Condition.

The Fortress Monroe letter to the Herald says: By what I deem very reliable authority, I am advised that Mr. Davis expects to be tried next month; that his more immediate and intimate friends look for the trial then, and that his counsel are laboriously preparing to enter on his defense.—The most serious question of all at present relates to the health of Mr. Davis. While all most interested in him hope for the best, the most sanguine express the fear that his health is at too low an ebb to be restored; that the sands of his life are rapidly running out, and that he will soon be beyond the reach of all earthly tribunals. Mr. O'Connor spoke of his growing feebleness when here. Every day the increasing weakness of his voice, his unsteady and painful walk, the deepening hollow of his cheeks, his eyes more sunken, his dimming sight and failing appetite and spirits, show it with palpable and undoubting certainty. I write from no sympathy for Mr. Davis or the "lost cause," of which he was the offending head and front. I write simply facts as I learn them and become convinced of their reliability. While there may be doubt as to the time of his trial, and while it may be doubtful whether he is tried at all, there is no doubt as to the present state of his health. Strangers who see him unite in this statement. His friends, many of whom visit and see him every day, tell the same story. Southern editors obtaining interviews with him unite in the same strain.—Meantime his wife and their youngest child remain with him. Of food, of medicine, of attendance he has the best. He has no possible ground of complaint of his treatment. The only fault he finds is in the delay of his trial.

IN the game of life, men most frequently play the knave and women the duce.

A Correction.

In the recapitulation of Senators and Representatives of the next Legislature, we last week erroneously gave the Democrats one Senator too many. We therefore publish the recapitulation again with the mistake corrected:

"Ah! Whither Shall I Fly?"

Our neighbor, Odell, got badly whipped in this county at the last election; and if contrary to our advice, his party friends request him to "vamose the ranch," we do not see just now to what point he had better emigrate, to the end that his political prospects may be improved. To return from whence he came—Noble county, Ohio—would be madness; for not only did the Union men of that county elect their ticket on the 9th inst., but they, like ourselves, made strong inroads upon the enemy, and gained 100 over their majority of last year. Plainly, then, if Odell must quit here, he can't go there; and as the southern fields offer flattering inducements to labor, enterprise and men of his political faith, we beg him to cast his eyes thitherward.

"A Star that Never Sets."

"Little Carroll," the county we lived in while in the state of Ohio, was organized about thirty-three years ago, and never during its existence as a county has it elected a Democratic ticket. Frequently has the Whig and Republican majority ebbed as low as 75, but this near approach to defeat al-indom.table Republicans to additional vigilance and labor at subsequent elections. While 75 was the lowest, about 600 was the highest majority given by the Unionists—making a permanent average majority of betwen 3 and 400. On these figures did the result usually hang on a vote of about 3000, and so stubbornly did both parties always contest the ground that but little change was ever made in them. In the expressive language of our neighbor Odell, they "pushed and pawed and had each other by the horns," without being able to make much headway in either direction; but it affords us no little pleasure to note that at the last election our friends out there got the enemy "on the run," and worsted them 578 votes—gaining 128 on their majority of last year. Well done, Union men of Little Carroll!—May your zeal and energy never abate, and your majority never again grow less.

Montgomery to the Rescue!

"Our own Montgomery," during his canvass for Congress, peddled a pamphlet in which it was asserted that the Civil Rights Bill, passed by a Radical Congress, imposed a fine of one thousand dollars upon any white father who would not consent to his daughter marrying a negro. In addition to Montgomery's distributing this pamphlet throughout the District, he was prone to dwell long and pathetically on its contents in his harangues before the people. It was always his special care, too, to add that unless the people sent him to Congress, this odious statute would be enforced. Well, the election has come and gone, the people have been still-necked and perverse, they have not voted Montgomery into Congress; and hence we suppose that the "marrying and giving in marriage" of which he so eloquently declaimed, is to begin without delay. Come forth, then, Montgomery! and as you have the law and we have it not, tell us how and when prosecutions under it are to be commenced. We want to know all about it, and we beg you to give us the desired information. And while you are at it let us know too just when the "big strapping nigger and the buxom wench will take the front seats" in our churches, that you talked so philosophically about during your raids into Beaver and the adjoining counties.

Colonizing Voters.

That voters were colonized into this State previous to the 9th of October, with a view of carrying the election in favor of "my policy," there can scarcely be a doubt. In Philadelphia we most assuredly lost Nichols, our candidate for the Senate, by an importation of coppery voters into his District; and we are assured by the Washington Reporter, as well as by private letters from Washington, Pa., that at least two hundred illegal votes were cast against the Union ticket in that county at the recent election.—These votes were in the main imported from West Virginia, and were judiciously distributed among the several townships of the county, so that suspicion would be avoided. To prove that this is so, it is only necessary to bear in mind that this year our majority in that county is only 265 for Geary, while last year our friends beat their opponents there 505. Now this loss on our part and gain on theirs comes from no diminution of our strength since last year, for the Union men of that county poll 525 more votes now than they did then, but from the extraordinary increase of seven hundred and sixty three Democratic votes. Where these coppery votes came from, none, we suppose, could tell better than the ex-rebels of West Virginia.

In the Twelfth Congressional District the same bold game has been played; and we have scarcely any doubt but what its complete ventilation will give us another member of Congress from this State in the person of Mr. Archbald, who is represented to have been beaten by Mr. Dennison (Dem). The frauds in that District are thus publicly pointed out by the Scranton Republican:

The table we publish elsewhere tells its own story. The Twelfth ward, Scranton, with its 216 votes last year, and its 728 this year; the north district of Wilkes-barre township, with its 122 Democratic maj. last year, and 367 this year; Carbondale, Third ward, with its 118 Democratic maj. last year, and its 265 this year; Dunmore, with its 89 Democratic maj. last year, and its 370 this; the south district of Pittston tp., with its 143 taxables and 199 Democratic majority—these and numerous similar districts show the perpetration of enormous frauds—which, this time, have been so flagrant and wholesale as to leave no doubt of its being possible to expose them. The most publishing of the fraudulent schemes was the issue, by the thousand, of naturalization papers in blank, bearing the signature and official seals of Michael Philpin, Prothonotary of the county, and John E. Brown, Clerk of the Mayor's court of Carbondale.—They were issued so numerously that hundreds of them have come into the hands of the Union County Committee

Loss of the "Evening Star."

One of the saddest Ocean disasters that have occurred within recent times is that of the sinking of the "Evening Star" on the 3d of October, by which over two hundred and fifty persons were lost. The vessel left New York on the 29th of Sept., for New Orleans, under command of Capt. Knapp. On the morning of the 2d of October, the wind began to blow quite hard, and continued to increase gradually untill the morning of the 3d when it blew a perfect hurricane. After weathering the storm for fourteen hours, the vessel foundered with 275 souls on board, only some 16 or 20 of whom are known to have been saved.

A great many of the passengers were females, and some forty or fifty of whom were women of ill-fame.—Among these latter was Mrs. Cunningham Burdell, who will be generally remembered as having been tried for the murder of Dr. Burdell, in New York some years ago. She seemed to have charge of many of these disreputable women, and was doubtless taking them to New Orleans, there to pursue their loathing avocation under her management. Retributive justice, swift and terrible, has overtaken her and them, when they least dreamed of its coming.

The officers of the vessel seem to have done all in their power to save the lives of the passengers, but in vain. They perished with them.

Great Fire in Quebec.

A terrible fire broke out and raged in Quebec Canada, last week, burning down 2,500 houses, and rendering homeless about 18,000 people. The fire originated early in the morning in a grocery store, and there being a high wind soon after, it spread rapidly from building to building and from street to street, until 5 in the evening, when it ceased from want of anything more to feed on. The loss is estimated at $3,000,000; and a large proportion of the sufferers are in a deplorable condition.

How it Looks for 1866.—Connecticut for the Union! Rhode Island for the Union! Vermont for the Union! Maine for the Union! Nebraska for the Union! Iowa for the Union!—Indiana for the Union! Ohio for the Union! Pennsylvania for the Union! Grand aggregate majority, 175,000!

Trouble in Maryland.

Trouble of a political character is anticipated in Maryland. The Police Commissioners of the city of Baltimore, appointed by the Legislature of the State, and having performed their duty faithfully all through the war, have now fallen under the displeasure of the rebel sympathizers of that city, because they refuse to appoint Judges of Elections who will take the votes of the ex-rebels registered in defiance of the Constitution and laws of the State.

The Governor of the State, Thomas Swann, has been appealed to to remove these Commissioners, and appoint others, who have already been designated as the fit agents of treason; and as the Governor is a supporter of the President's policy, it is feared that he will make an effort to comply with this treasonable request, and thus inaugurate revolution in that State. In addition to this, Gov. Swann is a Johnson candidate for the U. S. Senate, and knows that if the ex rebels are not permitted to vote on the 2d of November, his friends will not be able to carry the Legislature; hence to remove the loyal Commissioners of Baltimore, and appoint disloyal ones in their stead, would give him a political advantage that he is not likely to forego. On Monday last the Commissioners were cited to appear before the Governor, but as they decline to acknowledge his authority in the matter, they refused to attend. This refusal on their part is sustained by the Mayor of Baltimore, the loyal men of the city, and the State, who declare that the streets of Baltimore shall run with blood before the Constitution and laws of the State shall be violated, or its loyal people ruled by its ex-rebels.—If the Governor therefore attempts to carry out his revolutionary programme, and is sustained in the effort by the President of the United States, bloodshed is not remote, but near at hand.

—Later news say that the counsel for the Police Commissioners appeared before the Governor, and while denying the juriadiction of the Governor expressed a willingness on the part of the Commissioners to have their official conduct inquired into and passed upon by the judicial authorities of the State.

The Local of last week gives the public a kind of a dying kick on the flag affair. It has taken our advice, and ceased its fulsome praise of Capt. Gillis, and settled itself squarely down on this proposition:

"The trees to which the flag was suspended are corporation property, and no authority but the corporation of flags to them."

The heft of this argument is readily seen when it is remembered that lot-owners not only pay for the trees referred to, but likewise plant, box and cultivate them, for the express purpose of beautifying their property and rendering their homes more comfortable. The corporation neither invests money, time nor attention in them, and when property owners see fit to take the trees planted by themselves down, in front or in rear of their dwellings, the corporation enters no protest against it, as is seen in an instance at the upper end of town, where Prof. Mercer a few years ago relieved the Seminary property of its front shade trees without objection or hindrance from any one. This last position of the Local proves, therefore, to be as untenable as its previous ones were ridiculous; and we suspect that, "heavy calibre" as its editor confessedly is, he will never again take as much stock in a similar enterprise as he originally took in this one.

Maryland Politics--Gov Swann's Proclamation.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
ANNAPOLIS, MD., Oct. 22, '66.

Whereas, it has come to the knowledge of the Executive that military and other combinations are now forming for the purpose of obstructing and resisting the execution of the laws of this State; and whereas, there is reason to believe that similar combinations are attempted to be organized in other States, with the intention of invading the soil of the State of Maryland, to deprive her citizens of their just rights under the laws, and to control the people of the State by violence and intimidation;

Now, therefore, I Thomas Swann, Governor of the State of Maryland, do by this my proclamation, solemnly warn the leaders of all such illegal and revolutionary combinations against the peace and dignity of the State, that in the event of riot and bloodshed growing out of these revolutionary proceedings, they will be held to the strictest accountability, and the power of the State will be exhausted to bring them to prompt and merited punishment.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the State of Maryland, at the city of Annapolis, this 22d day of October, A. D. 1866.

[Signed] THOMAS SWANN.

By the Governor:
JOHN W. CARTER, Sec'y of State.

The Victory in Pennsylvania

ADDRESS OF UNION STATE COMMITTEE.

UNION STATE CENTRAL COM. ROOMS,
No. 1105 CHESTNUT STREET,
PHILADELPHIA, October 12, 1866.

On behalf of the Committee, I congratulate the people of the State upon a contest. We have elected our candidate for Governor by a large majority. We have endorsed the Constitutional amendments proposed by Congress. We have secured about two thirds of both branches of the Legislature. We have elected eighteen out of the twenty four members of Congress, a gain of two over our present delegation. These are the substantial results of our complete and magnificent victory; a victory achieved by the patriotic efforts of a loyal people, in defiance of the basest betrayal on record, and in spite of the most reckless abuse of Government patronage ever encountered by any party; a triumph of right over wrong, and fairly won, in as desperate a struggle and against as unscrupulous means as were ever resorted to by any adversary. Thanks to the Giver of all victories. Thanks to all our co laborers, and especially to my able, devoted and efficient Secretaries, who toiled with me most faithfully for four months without fee or reward. Thanks to the other members of this Committee, and to the various local organizations. Thanks to the gallant "Boys in Blue," who fought and won another battle for their country, and to the able and patriotic press throughout the State. And last, but not least, many thanks to the noble Union League and the patriotic liberality of our friends in the city of Philadelphia.

By order of the Committee,
F. JORDAN, Chairman.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, October 22.

SENATOR COWAN.

Senator Cowan was granted an interview for some time to-day with the President. It is conceded by frequenters of the White House that he is to have a position in the Cabinet on the expiration of his Senatorial term.

THE MARYLAND DIFFICULTY.

It is telegraphed here from Annapolis that Governor Swan has taken a decided stand, and intends to proceed with the removal of the Police Commissioners. This will be resisted vi et armis. A special to the Chronicle says that three thousand armed men have reported to the Mayor of Baltimore and the Police Commissioners that they are in readiness at a moment's notice. Should a collision occur it is believed here that U. S. troops will then be put forward to quell the disturbance. Montgomery Blair had an interview with the President to-day on the Maryland troubles.

It is reasonably believed that at least 20,000 illegal votes were polled for Hiester Clymer at the late election in Pennsylvania! This fact makes Geary's legal majority at nearly FORTY THOUSAND VOTES. There is no question about the position as to the real result of the election of Governor in this State.—Ir. Tel.

We would call attention to the opinion of one of the leading papers of Canada on this subject:

Most of our readers have no doubt read some of the numerous advertisements of Gift Enterprises, Gift Conceits, &c., which appear from time to time in the public prints, offering most tempting bargains to those who will patronize them. In most cases these are genuine humbugs. But there are a few respectable firms who do business in this manner, and they do it as a means of increasing their wholesale business, and not to make money.—From such firms, it is true, handsome and valuable articles are procured for a very small sum, and what is more important no one is ever cheated.—Every person gets good value for his dollar; because, as we have stated, it is intended to act as an advertisement to increase their ordinary business.

We have seen numbers of prizes sent out in this way by SHERMAN, WATSON & COMPANY, of Nassau Street, N. Y., and there is no doubt that some of the articles are worth eight or ten times the money paid for them, while we have not seen or heard of a single article which was not fully worth the dollar which it cost. But this is only one of the exceptions of this rule, for as a general thing the parties engaged in this business are nothing but clever swindlers.—(Saturday Reader, Montreal, C. E., Jan. 13, 1866.)

☞ Protecting the toes of childrens' Shoes from wear by Metal Tips, has proved a most important and useful invention. But until lately a great mistake has been made in applying them chiefly to the coarser grades of shoes. For the higher the cost of the shoe the more there is saved by protecting the toe from wear, which can only be done by a Metal-Tip. Genteel Metal-Tipped shoes are now being made and are worn by the best families in the city. Manufacturers could not have conferred a greater public favor than by supplying this great want.—Boston Journal.

Great Distribution

BY THE

American Jewelry Association,

Depots 36 & 39 Nassau, 54 56 & 58 Liberty St.,
NEW YORK CITY.

Of Rosewood Pianos and Melodeons, Fine Oil Paintings, Engravings, Silver Ware, Gold and Silver Watches, and Elegant Jewelry, consisting of Diamond Pins, Diamond Rings, Gold Bracelets, Coral, Florentine, Mosaic, Jet, Lava, and Cameo Ladies' Sets, Gold Pens, with Gold and Silver Extension Holders, Sleeve Buttons, Sets of Studs, Vest and Neck Chains, Plain and Chased Gold Chains, &c., &c., valued at which they need not pay until it is known what is drawn and its value.

THE AMERICAN JEWELERS ASSOCIATION calls your attention to the fact of its being the largest and most popular Jewelry Association in the United States. The business is and always has been conducted in the most candid and honorable manner. Our rapidly increasing trade is a sure guarantee of the appreciation of our patrons for this method of obtaining rich, elegant and costly goods.—The sudden stagnation of trade in Europe, owing to the late German War and recent disastrous financial crisis in England, has caused the failure of a large number of Jewelry Houses in London and Paris, obliging them to sell their goods at a great sacrifice, in some instances less than one-third the cost of manufacturing. We have lately purchased very largely of these Bankrupt Goods, at such extremely low prices, that we can afford to send away Fine Goods, and give better chances to draw the most valuable prizes than any other establishment doing a similar business. OUR AIM IS TO PLEASE, and we respectfully solicit your patronage, as we are confident of giving the utmost satisfaction. During the past year we have forwarded a number of the most valuable prizes to all parts of the country. Those who patronize us will receive the full value of their money, as no article on our list is worth less than One Dollar, retail, and there are no blanks. Parties dealing with us may depend on having prompt returns, and the article drawn will be immediately sent to any address by return mail or express.

The following parties have recently drawn valuable prizes from the American Jewelers' Association, and have kindly allowed the use of their names:

Charles J. Hunter, Esq., Treasury Department, Washington, D. C.; Piano, value $300; Miss. Anna G. Yates, 52 St. Mark's Place, N. Y., Sewing Machine, value $75; Brig. Gen. L. L. Hanson, U. S. Vols., Nashville, Tenn., Silver Tea Set, value $150; Miss Emma Hunter, 63 Front St., Harrisburg, Pa., Sewing Machine, value $60; Lieut. Col. Walter Chittenden, Quartermaster, Louisville, Kentucky, Gold Watch, value 150; Wm. S. Haines, 247 King St., Charleston, S. C., Silver Watch, value $50; Alexander Johnson, Esq., Editor Musketeer Pioneer, Muskateur, Minn., Ladies' Enameled Watch, value $150; Samuel Lee, Esq., President Colorado and Red Bank Mining Company, San Francisco, Cal., Melodeon, value $200; Aaron S. Long, Esq., Principal Elkhart Collegiate Institute, Elkhart, N. J., Diamond Pin, value $200, R. M. Longstreet, Montgomery, Ala., Music Box, value $75; Rev. Isaac Van Duzer, Albany, N. Y., Gold Lined Dining Set, value $300; Miss Clara Lucuguer, Dayton, Ohio, Pianoforte, value $400, and Diamond Pin, value $175.

Many names could be placed on the list, but we publish no names without permission. Our patrons are desired to send United States currency when it is convenient.

THE BEAVER ARGUS

October 24th, 1866.

LOCAL and MISCELLANEOUS.

☞ Wm. Bingham, Jr., 54 Fifth st., Pittsburg, is the authorized agent for the Argus in that city.

☞ Every parent who has a son or daughter to send to school, should write for a circular of the State Normal School, at Edinboro.

Express Office.—We understand that Mr. David Johnson, of the Beaver Station, C. & P. R. R., has been appointed agent of the Union Line Express Company, and that he has opened an office in the above named station. This will be a convenience to the citizens of Beaver and vicinity, and it is to be hoped that the agency will be well patronized.

Odd Fellows Celebration.—The Odd Fellows of Shenango Lodge, No 395, New Castle, Pa., had a celebration on Saturday last, in commemoration of their 20th anniversary. Quite a number of the Odd Fellows of Bridgewater, Rochester, New Brighton, &c., were present on the occasion.

Shot.—The Pittsburg Commercial of the 18th says: On Friday morning last, Mrs. George Baker, of Beaver county, Pa., while on her way to take the cars at Brooklyn, Iowa, for home, was accidentally shot by a revolver which was in the pocket of the driver, and which was discharged while he was jumping from the wagon to fix the harness.

An Important Improvement.—The Town Council of Beaver Borough on Saturday evening last determined to accept the proposal of the Borough of Bridgewater, to jointly construct a gravel walk between the two towns. We presume the work will be commenced at once. This is an improvement that has long been needed, and we trust that no energy will be spared until the walk is made ready for public use.

An Ancient Democrat Changes his Vote.—The Wellsville Union says that on election day, at the Washington township precinct, in this county, an estimable and worthy citizen—Samuel McCoy, aged 93 years—voted the Union ticket, remarking that the Democracy would do to live, but not to die by; that his race was about run, and that he now wished, ere 'twas too late to redeem his past political errors by voting the Union Republican ticket.

Change of Assessors.—Samuel Davenport, Esq., well known in our county, and for a number of years the Assessor of the 24th District, on Saturday last turned the duties of his office over to Mr. Quail of Washington county, who was appointed by President Johnson as Mr. Davenport's successor. In retiring from the Assessorship of this District, Mr. D. carries with him the good wishes of a host of friends.

The Turf.—Quite an excitement prevailed last week in Pittsburgh and vicinity, on account of the races then occurring at Oakland Park, a few miles from the city. The races continued during the greater part of the week, but on Friday was the "big" day, as that was the time fixed for a trial of speed between Dexter, Patchen, Jr., and Magoozler—the two former from New York, and the latter from Pittsburgh. Dexter and Patchen, Jr. were trotters, and Magoozler a pacer. Dexter was the winner, while Magoozler came off second best. The purse was $2,500.

A Disgusting Spectacle.—On Monday last we noticed a well-dressed man and woman walking down street, arm in arm, so drunk that they could scarcely keep the sidewalk. The female appeared to be the more inebriated of the two, and could not have navigated at all had not her companion been a little steadier than herself. We believe the couple are residents of some one of the villages of this vicinity, but of which particular one we do not know. It is highly probable, however, that their neighbors could be easily reconciled to their removal to some other and more distant locality.

Seminary and Academy.—We learn that the half term of both these institutions closes with this week, and that students may enter either next week to advantage. We are happy to learn that both are in a prosperous condition, and are, we believe, very highly deserving of a liberal support. Prof. Powell is winning the good opinion of all who become acquainted with him and the esteem of all his pupils. The Society at the Academy is being conducted in a manner that renders it a source of improvement to all that participate in its exercises.—We see now no necessity for any persons leaving our county for obtaining a thorough business education or for preparation for college.

Teachers Institute.—The Teachers' Institute of this place met in pursuance of public notice, on Thursday evening last, in the Public School building. The exercises consisted of a recitation in reading, heard by Miss. Savage, and a recitation in arithmetic heard by Prof. Rhodes. An essay was also read by Miss Harper, and two or three songs sung by the teachers and others. All of which would have been very interesting, had there not been a few striplings of both sexes in the back part of the house that kept up a continuous noise, either in the way of whispering, laughing or changing seats. These disturbers of public gatherings should be taken by the hand and quietly led to the door, and forcibly ejected from all assemblies upon which they intrude themselves.

Dr. A. C. Barlow, of this place, delivered the lecture of the occasion, which was quite entertaining and well received by those present. His tribute to the power of the Press was as truthful as it was eloquent. At the close of the Dr.'s address, a discussion took place on the question of punctual attendance at school, which was participated in by Prof. Rhodes, Dr. Barlow and Miss M'Guffick.

The next meeting of the Institute takes place on next Thursday evening a week. Rev. Mr. Lowary, of Beaver, was selected to deliver the lecture on that evening.

Drowned.—As the steamer Columbia was passing Freedom on Friday last, a man fell overboard and was drowned. His body was recovered in about three quarters of an hour afterwards. Coroner M'Coy held an inquest over the body, and upon it were found the following articles: Key of state room No. 10, 1 trunk key, 1 pocket comb, 1 clay pipe, 1 striped silk kerchief, 1 pocket-book containing $30; also 70 cents in postal currency in his vest pocket, and a slip of paper on which was written these words: "To Brady's Bend post-office, Armstrong county, State of Pennsylvania; for John Hussit." The Coroner's jury returned the following: "The man, (name unknown) came to his death by drowning, in falling from the steamboat Columbia, while opposite the borough of Freedom; and that the captain, officers and crew are chargeable with carelessness and gross negligence by which this unknown man came to his death."

The people of Freedom and vicinity are quite indignant at the conduct of the officers and crew of the boat; and nearly or quite all agree that with proper exertions on their part the life of the stranger could have been saved. With such men human life is held with a very slender thread. The captain's name is G. W. Reed; and it is said that in reply to a dispatch sent him at Wellsville, Ohio, in reference to the casualty, he used langnage that was both ungentlemanly and insulting to those interrogating him.

Soldiers' Orphans.—On last Sunday the soldiers' orphans, under the tuition and care of Rev. W. G. Taylor, of Phillipsburg, came to this place in a body, and attended the church of Rev. D. P. Lowary. They marched hither in two ranks, were neatly dressed, and appeared to be under the best of discipline. There were 52 boys and 50 girls in the procession, with Mr. Taylor and an assistant teacher at the head of the column.

From what we have been able to learn, Mr Taylor discharges his duty toward these children, in a manner very satisfactory to the public; and we have repeatedly heard it stated that the children themselves almost idolize him as their teacher and protector.

Every Church may have an Organ.—It seems marvelous that a thin strip of metal, an inch and a half long, can be made to vibrate so as to produce a full, smooth, and sonorous tone, which can scarcely be distinguished, even by a practiced ear, from that of an organ pipe; yet this is the result attained in the Cabinet Organs made by Mason & Hamlin, of Boston. Reeds have ceased to produce "reedy" sounds, and the most delicate and fastidious tympanum may luxuriate in the silver tones of modern instruments, especially those from the factory of M. & H., who have, indeed, done much toward the marvelous change and improvement referred to.

The Cabinet Organ was introduced by this firm, and is a decided improvement upon the Melodeon; having greater power and variety, and being more easily supplied with wind. As its merits become known, it must be widely introduced. It is, in fact, a very efficient church organ brought within a small compass, not easy to get out of order, and sold at a very low price. One hundred and seventy dollars, or even less, will now furnish a fine accompanying instrument, much superior to the pianoforte for sacred music; while three, four, or five hundred dollars procures an instrument with correspondingly greater variety and advantages. Every Sabbath-school may now rejoice with an organ, and even feeble hands may "play upon an instrument" in the praise of God.—New York Examiner.

See advertisement in another column.

Cholera in Chicago.—The Journal of Saturday says: "There were fourteen cases of cholera and four deaths from the same in this city, during the twenty four hours ending at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Of these only four cases and one death occurred since last evening.

A Foundling.—On Monday evening last, a female child some five or six weeks old was found on the porch of Perry Gormely, corner of Jefferson street and the plank road. It was comfortably dressed and wrapped up in a blanket shawl, with a few articles of clothing for the child. It was taken charge of by the Overseers of the Poor (as Mr. and Mrs. Gormely have no need for an extra infant in their family), and has been well provided for its comfort and maintenance.—Lawrence Journal, 20th.

An army officer from South Carolina reports that the 29th South Carolina Regiment has lately been reorganized, and its officers boast that they have offered its services to President Johnson to sustain any attempt he may make to suppress Congress.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION!

WHERE TO BUY THE

CABINET ORGAN

It is a general feeling among those about to purchase musical instruments, that were they in direct communication with the factory they would have a greater opportunity for selecting a fresh and perfect instrument, than it would be possible to obtain from any agency. The subscriber would say, that to obviate this difficulty, and afford persons at a distance the same privileges secured to those near the factory, Messrs. Mason & Hamlin have established a number of Wholesale Agencies at important points, where a full supply of all the various styles of Cabinet Organs is constantly kept on hand. This agency in Pittsburgh is a Wholesale one, and purchasers may rely on being served here, as advantageously as at the factory. A competent player and musician is always in attendance at the warerooms of the subscriber to perform on the instruments, exhibit their various powers and qualities, show the different stops and their combinations, and explain their internal construction. All instruments sold in the city, are sent to the residence of the purchaser without charge, and those sold out of the city are securely boxed and delivered at the railroad stations or landings in the city, free of expense.

Persons ordering an organ by letter, are assured that as good an instrument will be sent, as if they were here to select it personally; the subscribers considering themselves bound by honor and interest to select and forward none other than the very best of the style ordered.

Caution to Purchasers.—The high reputation of the Mason & Hamlin Cabinet Organs, and the extensive demand for them, has frequently induced dealers to represent that other instruments are the same thing; that there is no essential difference between the Cabinet Organs and the organs with various other names made by other makers. This is not true. Several inventions, from which arise the chief excellences of the instrument, are peculiar to the Cabinet Organs; for, being patented and controlled by Mason & Hamlin, they cannot be used by other makers. It is therefore not merely from more thorough workmanship and better material, that the Cabinet Organ derives its superiority (though much is derived from these) but there are essential differences of construction, the right to employ which is the property of its manufacturers.

Purchasers should be careful to observe that the words Mason & Hamlin Cabinet Organ are on the name board of each instrument in full.

When a dealer represents any other instrument as a Cabinet Organ, or as "the same thing," it is almost always an attempt so sell an inferior instrument on which he can make a larger profit.

The subscribers will be happy to receive communications from any one that desires further information about the Cabinet Organ, and are anxious to put into the hands of everybody, whether intending to purchase an instrument or not, a copy of the circular, which contains a vast amount of interesting musical information. Copies mailed free to any address.

Infallible in Correcting Irregularities, Removing Obstructions of the Monthly Turns, from Whatever Cause, and ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL AS A PREVENTIVE.

It is now over thirty years since the above celebrated Pills were first discovered by Dr. DUPONCO, of Paris, during which time they have been extensively and successfully used in most of the public institutions, as well as in private practice, of both hemispheres, with unparalleled success in every case, and it is only at the "urgent request" of the thousands of Ladies who have used them, that he is induced to make the Pills public for the alleviation of those suffering from any Irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent an increase of family, where health will not permit it. Females peculiarly situated, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while in that condition, at the proprietor assumes no responsibilities after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health, otherwise the Pills are recommended.

Price $1,00 per Box. Six Boxes $5,00.

Sold by S. Smith, Bridgewater, Noble & Hamilton, Beaver, S. Hannen, Rochester.

Ladies! By sending $1,00 to either of the above agents, can have the pills sent (confidentially) by mail, to any part of the country, or address the Proprietor,
